10th CAVALRY FIRST TO DEFEAT VILLA

Crack Tenth Regiment Overtakes Company of Bandits

KILL FORTY MEXICANS

Colored Troops Suffer No Casualties. Outlaws Fleeing

A squadron of the Tenth Cavalry, Uncle Sam's crack Negro troops, was the first to meet and defeat the Villa forces, according to telegrams from "the front" the past three days. The country is ringing with praises of General Pershing's troopers. Major Evans, in his daily report, said: "Brown, with a squadron of Tenth Cavalry, encountered a band of Villistas and was pursuing them through San Antonio. Natives traveling from Chihuahua state that Brown's command, part dismounted and part mounted, surprised the Villistas at noon and killed forty horses, grazing, killing 20 or 40 bandits, capturing as many horses."

Some reports say Villa was badly injured and escaped, others say he was not in the band that was overtaken. None of the colored troopers were hit by bullets, in the running fight, the bandits firing wildly.

At last report the Mexicans were fleeing in disorder from their colored pursuers.

The Tenth is not the only colored regiment in the army. The 24th and 25th are both in the wake, but because of the nature of the hand have not kept up with the mounted troops. They are none the less brave, however, and distinguishing themselves most, any how.

Colored Officers of U. S. Army

The colored officers in the United States regular army are at present as follows: Line Officers—Major Charles Young; 10th Cavalry; First Lieutenant Benjamin O. Davis, 10th Cavalry; First Lieutenant George W. Prieole, 25th Infantry. The regimental chaplains are: Captain George W. Prieole, 10th Cavalry; First Lieutenant W. W. Gladstone, 24th Infantry; First Lieutenant O. J. W. Scott, 25th Infantry; First Lieutenant Lewis A. Carter, 1st Cavalry. On the retired list are the following colored men: Major W. T. Anderson, formerly Chaplain; Captain W. H. Davis, formerly chaplain; Major John R. French, formerly paymaster. Major Young is the only West Point graduate, Green and Davis having been promoted from the ranks.

At Poro College

We are pleased to announce the fine attendance of the members of the "Poro" Argus at their regular monthly meeting held on Tuesday evening at "Poro" College. Although Mrs. A. M. Malone was absent the meeting was very successfully managed by Mrs. Johnnie Painter-Marshall, third-president, assisted by Mrs. Clara Smith-Easton, and Miss Regine McMurray.

The College Crew will return within a few days, from a short tour through the north, with "Poro" College making pictures. These tours will be conducted by the crew throughout the entire year.

To Visitors:

The trip of those visiting the Central Missouri Christian College "Poro" is complete unless they add "Poro" to their list. Stay in St. Louis, in their list.

SPOKANE MAN EXPLAINS IOWA BOY'S REVOLT

Says Discrimination by Whites is the Cause—Denial of Privileges Discouraging Negroes—Loyalty Has Been Proven

To the Editor of the Spokesman-Review.—The refusal of the little colored boy in Des Moines to salute the flag has been charged to religious fanaticism and it is charity to allow it to go past. But I rather suspect that that boy's parents are of the constantly increasing class of Negroes who are asking the question, "Why should colored Americans honor the American flag?"

To the white American that flag is the symbol of liberty and opportunity, such as is offered by no other national emblem. To the colored American it is the sign of prejudice, discrimination and closed opportunities more than is the banner of any other nation on the globe. In Cuba, where the United States' intervention against Negroes was never heard of until the American occupation, the same is true of Panama and the Latin republics; the advent of the American flag is the beginning of efforts to humiliate the Negroes.

That white boy and his parents are sincere in their great "stand for the flag and honor of the country" his parents are reduced this opportunity to earn a honest living, while the foreigner, who can not speak our language and is saturated with anarchy and other ideas antagonistic to the welfare of society, has every door thrown open to him where he can do work.

Since colored boys and girls have served their country faithfully under that flag and received an honorable discharge are refused the most common work simply because they are colored, while Indians, Greeks, Australians and even Mexicans are readily employed.

Recently in this city, the public library of this city announced that a number of young ladies would soon be needed in the library and that an examination would be held at a certain time. Among those who presented themselves for examination was a young colored girl, who had been a student of high schools. Her family had been residents of this city for 25 years and taxpayers all of that time. But the girl was flatly refused the examination because she was colored. The librarian, in justification of her action, said that a number of the board expressed great surprise that a colored girl should promise to seek such a position.

This the young colored people are being taught by their white neighbors that they must not expect any of the opportunities or privileges that the flag represents; that its "glorious" privileges are for white people of every nationality and that they are not entitled to protection, but for black Americans.

Major Young is the only West Point graduate, Green and Davis having been promoted from the ranks.

SUNDAY SCHOOL SONG SERVICE BIG SUCCESS

Great Enthusiasm Shown in Singing

Prof. Dren, Supt., Antioch Baptist
St. S. Leads

Five hundred Sunday-school pupils and teachers participated in the massed singer held at Union Memorial last Monday night. (The newly decorated church auditorium of beautiful carvings with highly polished hardware) and elegant new piano, every everything was ready and fitting for the occasion.

Seated on the platform with the leader, Miss Araxia M. Williams, were the superintendents of the various schools. Mr. L. F. Ford, Supt. of Memorial Sunday school, gave the invocation. Mr. Wilson, Supt. of Central Baptist Sunday school, read the "one hundredth Psalm." Mr. Soper, Supt. Lane's Tabernacle C. M. E. S. R., responded to the greetings.

EXTRAORDINARY BIG MASS MEETING SUNDAY

Bishop Bristol and Dr. Day to Speak at Y. M. C. A. Gathering Sunday at St. Paul's—Keen Interest Among Teams

On next Sunday afternoon the meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, which is to be held for St. Paul's A. M. E. Church bids fair to eclipse all others. The meeting will be a double-header. Dr. John W. Day, who is known by all as a stamp collector and a broad humanitairian will bring a great message on the subject, "One's Heart." Needless to say, a large number of people will attend the meeting because of their great admiration for Dr. Day.

Mr. Bristol, Supt. of Memorial Sunday school, gave the invocation. Mr. Wilson, Supt. of Central Baptist Sunday school, read the "one hundredth Psalm." Mr. Soper, Supt. Lane's Tabernacle C. M. E. S. R., responded to the greetings.

When Miss Williams touched the electric button as a signal to the change the great pipe organ pealed forth "Stand Up For Jesus," and a beautiful procession of Sunday-school pupils began to sing. The lead of the girls, Misses Jessie and Miss Bessie Collier, the boys, The Union Memorial Choir, under the direction of Mr. Gerald Terrell, sang an anthem, after which the great chorus of Sunday-school folks, Mr. Hampton James, directing. The glee club of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. Choral, the Epworth League, the Tabernacle, the Sunday school, gave special numbers. Solosists of the evening were: Misses Annabel O. Dickson, Rose Harris, Jessie E. Cole and Mrs. Nellie Wood-Austin.

The altar decorations consisted of a profusion of narcissus.

NEGRO ELECTED ALDERMAN OF EAST ST. LOUIS.

The Republican state convention, which met at Excelsior Springs, this week, was of unusual interest to the people of the state at large on account of the large number of negroes争取 place and power in the state and nation for the Republican party.

There were four negroes elected alternate delegates at large to the National convention which is to be held at Chicago in June. They were as follows: Dr. J. R. C. Condon, Second Ward; W. C. Houston, attorney, East St. Louis; Prof. A. E. China, Excelsior Springs; Mr. McKinley Delegated from Kansas City; Prof. A. E. China, Excelsior Springs.

The Central Missouri Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church was convened at Union Memorial Church of this city, Wednesday morning, Rev. M. Bristol of Omaha, Nebraska presiding. The conference was well attended by ministers and delegates. Reports from various churches showed a general increase of this branch of the church both numerically and financially.

Some of the general officers of the M. E. Church were in attendance, among whom were Dr. Hobart E. Jones, editor of Southwestern Christian Advocate, New Orleans, La.; Dr. H. L. Gardner, secretary of Freedmen Board, and Dr. W. L. Lucas.

On the agenda of the conference was the question of whether this conference wanted a colored bishop. When a vote was taken Thursday it was lost 43 to 10.

The appointments will be made Sunday and the conference will adjourn Sunday night.

Rev. F. P. Berry Having Great Success With the Men at St. Paul's

Something unusual is taking place at the St. Paul's Cafeteria where such a large number of men are employed. The majority of men who work at the plant usually go out there on Sunday mornings where they spend a good deal of time discussing whatever comes in their mind. Rev. F. P. Berry, who is a regular employee, seeing this opportunity, called together a few of the men and organized a club which the men readily took to. Rev. Berry is well known as a gospel singer, and when he starts one of those soul stirring songs the men all join in and as he puts it, "The spirit like the rushing of a mighty wind comes" and takes hold on the men.

The services have had the approval of the men and the management willing to lend every encouragement to Rev. Berry and his assistants in their efforts.

NEGRO ELIMINATION

Elimination is the word which, in its application, means the stripping of the Negro of all his franchises of citizenship in government and party.

The American idea of government has always had a tendency towards race government. In earlier days the Indian was governed by segregation, giving him certain territories and reservations. It was a government within a government. The Indian was relieved of taxation and deprived of representation. The laws governing him were different from the laws governing white men, and, hence, we had a long series of Indian wars, in which thousands of lives were lost and millions of dollars expended. These long series of conflicts engendered the bitterest race hate and wasted much energy, life and money.

The British in Canada governed their Indian population just the same as they did their white population. They all went to the same churches, the same schools, and enjoyed the same rights of property and representation as any other subjects of the Dominion. Now, with this race idea still dominant, the Americans want to Indianize the Negro—to give him reservations in cities and outside of cities, to separate him in the schools, in the churches, in the theaters, in hotels, in eating houses, in the hospitals, in tenements, and even in the jails. The tendency is to perpetuate a war of races and make the Negro the butt for the insults and violence of all the low-down and worse elements of the white population.

You might as well try to dam up the Nile with bullrushes as to try to suppress the aspirations of the Negro for a higher life and better conditions. Two-and-a-half centuries of the most abject hooliganism could not destroy Negro manhood, and a century of the most humiliating proscription aided it to will only give energy to his efforts to overcome.

"Truth crushed to earth will rise again,

For the eternal years of God are fier."

We often wonder why it goes on and when it will stop, and seriously doubt American civilization. Does not all this lynching say that we are a border ruffian nation, with mob law, under the rule of passion and blood?

Christianity is rapidly becoming only another name for American hypocrisy. Long prayers and many words are said with as much grieve over the study of a Negro burned to a crisp as at the altars of the holy religion.

Our churches are doing a good work, and the pastors might produce still better results if they would confine their labors more exclusively to the church work.

One Negro killed, one white man killed, one white man wounded and a couple of barns burned were the results of a race war in St. Charles County.

Evidently the Negro was a bad man, and the 500 white men, called a sheriff's posse, seemed equally murderous in their purposes—500 lynchers, with guns and law in their own hands.

UNITE ON ONE MAN

There is but one way for the Negroes to secure the election of a delegate to the Republican Convention to be held in Chicago. Get together and decide on one man. Throw aside personal grievances. A division on the floor of the convention hall next Monday will surely result in defeat. A Negro delegate is what we want, no matter whom.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. BREWER, Acting Director of the Sunday School Course of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, Illinois; Copyright, 1916, by the Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR APRIL 9

AEneas AND DORCAS.

LESSON TEXT—Acta 9:22-42. (See also the "GOLDEN TEXT"—In all things showing three as an example of good works—Titus 3:1).

Step by step the Gospel can be traced, spreading itself, but "beginning at Jerusalem." Paul's conversion is one of the greatest evidences of Christianity. The two miracles of today's lesson are additional evidence that it is of God:

I. At Lydda (v. 22-35). Calligula, emperor of Rome in A. D. 33, ordered his statue to be erected in Jerusalem so that it could be worshipped as a god there as elsewhere. The attachment and conduct which arose in opposition to this proposal lasted for two years during which time Christian persecutions ceased. Following Saul's visit at Jerusalem, and during this time of quiet, Peter made this tour of visitation. Lydia (modem Lodi) is about twenty-five miles northwest of Jerusalem. Here dwelt certain saints (v. 23) literally "holy ones," converted disciples of Christ, not ones of special honor, but who are members of the body of Christ. The name of the saint of God is given to them (Phil. 1:1). Here also dwelt Aeneas, "a certain man" possibly not a believer, but having great need (v. 26:3; 10:1, 11:8; 3:10), and of years standing (v. 33). Notice Luke, the physician's careful record. Peter must have been a man of great tact, for he did not rebuke him for his pride, but rather used every effort to help him. Peter's city was not sentimental but practical and his words powerful, for back of them was the Living and Powerful Christ. He knew who could work a cure. The hand of God could be relieved. Yet those days of illness were days of deep meditation and probably prepared that man's heart to respond in faith to Peter's words. Peter does not attract attention to himself, but rather to Jesus. His was but to be the instrument of the cure. The healing was a means to an end, when when we dwell in the Word and Simeon (v. 35) heard of the miracle, or saw this healed man, it was to them a demonstration of the power of the risen Christ, and they "turned to the Lord."

II. At Joppa (vv. 36-43). Joppa was the only seaport the Jews ever possessed for themselves. It was and is still the port of the Mediterranean, and now marks the beginning of the railroad leading to Jerusalem, 15 miles distant. No name is recorded of any of its rich or prominent citizens, only that of an humble woman. The record of her life, however, is inspiring (v. 38), and her name is a common name in the East, a name of women. Like her master her life was full of "good deeds"; like him she was not ministered unto, but ministered. This is real greatness and it is open to all of us. Her name is "Elias" (Hebrew) or "Dorcas" (Greek), means gazer, which is the Lord's favorite type of beauty. This "certain disciple" was beautiful in life as well, for she was first a believer, then a doer. We believe in order to do, not do in order to believe. This woman is an example of faith and capable womanhood in action. Peter, in a picture well worth studying in these days of the "feminist movement," is a good type to be followed by church women, and by us all in the fact that her reputation rested upon deeds, "which she did" (v. 40), and not upon what she said and she waited for some great opportunity to service. The life of Dorcas reveals one of the causes of the triumph of Christianity in the Roman empire. It was a source of wonder that these early Christians should be loved each other, and that Peter, who was not allowed to die in the providence of God. He loved his work and this record incident has served to raise up multitudes of other Dorcas. Her death also reveals that being "full of good works" does not mean death, nor does it mean absence from the resurrection of Christ. Peter followed the example of his Lord (Luke 8:2, 45), dismissed all spectators and "strayed" (v. 45). The way to revive a dead pastor, church, denomination, person, experience, etc., is to "raise him up" in the same way as by prayer. Peter also did as he had seen his Master do to his mother-in-law (Mark 1:36, 31), and gave Dorcas back her life.

This gave an opportunity for trust, for the love of the Lord (v. 41) and the confidence in many others. Mrs. H. C. Morris (v. 42) says that Peter died in Joppa some time in the house of "Elias, a tanner."

His Own

By REV. B. E. SUTCLIFFE
American Superintendent of Men, Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago

TEXT—Man's love his own which was in the world he loved them unto the end—John 13:1.

With peculiar emphasis this text describes all Christians as "his own."

Believers are the peculiar property of the Lord Jesus Christ in at least three ways. They become his by gift from the Father. Inasmuch as of them Christ describes them as those "whom thou hast given me." They are also his peculiar property. His own he is to his chisel for he bought them with his precious blood on the cross of Calvary.

They belong to him, their two surrogates to him. These are the three forms of divine aid to believers. The Father will never take back the gift he has made to the Son, the Son will never give up that which he has purchased at such awful cost, and that which is surrendered, will always be given back to the Father.

As a child becomes the peculiar care of a home so the believer becomes the peculiar care of the Lord. All other care taken secondary to it. It is the desire of every Christian to gain his peculiar property. This sometimes seems as though the Lord dealt with his own in a hard way. This is because the Christian, like the child, does not understand the "why" of many things. Many of the seeming hard things that come to the Christian are but a guarding of the Lord's property from danger and want but to his credit. Again, it is the peculiar care of the Lord to guide his own people. It knows what lies along each pathway, what looks attractive to one of us, and what one can assure is it because a son danger there or else he sees more blessing along some other road. The unknown and untried of the Lord's choosing and that ones where richest blessing lies. The Lord who also allows him to have his footprints in the mud is his own peculiar care to provide for his own. Many are the ways he has for providing for them. Sometimes by natural, sometimes by unnatural ways, as the case of Elijah and the brook. The ravens were sent to him to feed him and they were sent to feed him just where the Lord told him to go. Had he been elsewhere he might have missed what the Lord had for him. So the Christian often misses much because of his own lack of knowledge of the Lord's plan. See if that you are in God's place for you and he will see to it, though he may work a miracle, that every need of yours will be supplied.

His Own Peculiar Love.

The peculiar love of the Lord for his own people is that which distinguishes them and their peculiarities. The Lord so seriously warned Simon Peter of his coming fit of denial, but Peter boldly said he would lay down his life before he would leave him even. When therefore, Peter so miserably failed it was the Lord who came to his rescue. Other boys would grow a bit cool. But in spite of the failure there was no less seeing of love, there was no cooling of the affection. It was his love that was in the look that brought Peter to his repentance. Let no Christian doubt the love of the Lord. The Lord thinks that the love of Christ has not been diminished. He loves with an everlasting love that many waters cannot quench. Return onto him his own love, let them unto the end in spite of any failures. All names are kept to whom he loves him because he seems to be so backward in learning his love. But he loves in spite of the backwardness of his disciples. Think of Philip after three years of cogitating and not being able to discern who he was. Peter was told, in answer to his inquiry for the "Truth," "as that bird seen me hath seen the Father." He knows so well the makes of the believer, that no showman to understand can surprise him, much less a love grow cold.

He loves his own with a peculiar love that nothing can cool or turn aside from its object.

His own peculiar property, which is his own peculiar care, is the object of his own peculiar love.

Even the unbeknown of his own is not sufficient to cool the warmth or less the depth of his love.

For the doubling one, was more loved, more truly or more deeply than in the mind of his beloved to believe in the resurrection until he had thrust his hand into the womb.

There is nothing that can bring as and the love of the Lord for his love having loved his own he loves them unto the end; or, as the Rev. Dr. Weston puts it, "He loves them to the uttermost."

Oxford agents are rapidly advancing and seem to have no trouble in getting down the forts, and a number of towns have been entirely captured. The Oxford agents have the most modern equipment to use in their work, which of course accounts for their rapid progress.

During the month of March, we were able to add greatly to our agents and customers list throughout the United States we have two agents in British Columbia and five in Canada.

Several agents with great success are as follows: Mrs. Bertha Marion, agent in successful New York, Miss Anna Reina Fields Vining passed her examination, making highest average in her class and was awarded her diploma by Mr. W. L. Majors. Mrs. Marion's intention was to go into business with her sister in New York. Mrs. Marion, a native of St. Louis, has gained so many customers that she has decided to remain here for a while and will be pleased to have all customers call at her residence, 325 Mansfield Ave., or will go out on appointment. Mrs. Irene Lewis, of Broadway, East St. Louis, Ill., who made a very fine average and is one of our best agents deserved much credit. In the near future she will open a beauty parlor in East St. Louis, installing two of Mr. Major's latest inventions, ray electric heater and the electric scalp purifier, and having cold air hair dryer. Mrs. Ethel Cooper, who has been in our consciousness for the Oxford College, will be pleased to have customers call at her residence, 2616 Bernard street. Mrs. Anne R. Spann, came from Tuscaloosa, Ala., to complete her course, and is a very bright young girl and is one of our most successful agents. Miss Lillian Hoote, who came from Mississippi, and took her final examination making an average of 95 per cent has left to establish her business in Memphis, Miss. We have enrolled on our list for the spring class, Mrs. Angilia Jones, 2821 Locust Ave., and Mrs. Edna Limberg, 2812 Pine street, both are doing well in their studies. Other names will appear later.
